This ancient citadel stands as a testament to the enduring legacy of Greek culture and ideals, representing advancements in art, architecture and political thought that originated in Athens. Feel the essence of civic pride and religious devotion in ancient Greek society, at the city's centre for political and cultural life. Day 4 Chios (Port: Chios)

Today's port of call is an island that remains "off the tourist trail" gifting us a true insight into Greek island life. Chios, an island steeped in history and myth, draws its name from Chios, the son of Poseidon. In antiquity, it was a pioneering city-state, known for minting coins and developing a democratic system akin to Athens. The island played a significant naval role, initially allied with Athens and later gaining independence, before numerous invasions finally handed it to Greece. Today, Chios blends its ancient legacy with a tight-knit community life. Explore the streets of our port of call, Myrina, this afternoon to admire Ottoman fountains, a picturesque town square with marble works and palm trees, and a lively waterfront, all clad with the unique mastic resin that defines the island's character. This morning, we will enjoy an excursion to the heart and soul of the island.

Option 1 – Morning experience: Masters of Mastic This island is renowned for its mastic-producing villages, where you will find houses adorned with intricate patterns created by this unique resin. No visit to Chios is complete without a trip to a traditional mastic farm and the Mastic Museum. At the farm, our host demonstrates the meticulous process of preparing the ground beneath mastic trees. Mastic tears, sticky droplets that form on the tree's trunk and branches, are harvested to create this unique product. The Mastic Museum offers an insight into the significance of mastic to the islanders, showcasing how this unique resin has shaped the local culture and environment. Experiencing the charm of the mastic villages, where traditional houses reflect the island's rich heritage and artistry, is a true insight into the island's psyche.

Option 2 – Morning experience: A Celebration of Souma Discover the charm of Chios with a visit to Vesta, where the traditional art of making souma comes to life. At Vesta, you will delve into the souma-making process with a souma master and experience its unique flavours firsthand. This combination of souma and a visit to the quaint town of Vesta provides an authentic glimpse into Chios's rich cultural and culinary heritage.

Option 3 – Morning experience: The 'Ghost Town' of Anavatos A 45-minute drive from Myrina takes us to the 'ghost town' of Anavatos. Standing as a haunting reminder of Chios's troubled past, this abandoned village, with its grey-stone houses and narrow, winding streets, sits precariously atop a steep cliff. Built for military defence, Anavatos became a tragic symbol during the 1822 Ottoman invasion. Faced with the threat of capture, villagers leapt from the cliffs, choosing death over surrender. Today, the village preserves its medieval appeal capped by its fortress, the Church of Taxiarchis, and an old school. Despite its eerie silence, a few locals remain in the lower part of the town, offering insights into the village's history and showcasing local products like honey and cheese

Day 5 Lemnos (Port: Myrina)

Located in the northern Aegean, Lemnos is one of Greece's larger islands, having been captured from Turkey just over a century ago. Its tranquil lands offer a retreat off the beaten path, making it perfect for travellers seeking a break from the commercial tourist enterprises of its southern counterpart. With a rich history stretching back to antiquity, the island is renowned for its archaeological sites and its significant role in Greek mythology as the legendary homeland of the god Hephaestus. In more recent times, Lemnos served as a hospital during the evacuation of wounded from the Gallipoli landings, endearing it to ANZACs. The island is home to three Commonwealth war cemeteries, commemorating this connection.

Additionally, the Australian town of Lemnos, established in Victoria in 1927 as a settlement for returning World War I soldiers, was named in honour of the island. During World War II, Lemnos was used as a German naval base. The economic hardships of the 1950s led to significant emigration due to widespread poverty. Visiting Lemnos offers a unique opportunity to explore both the ancient tales of Greece and the modern challenges the islands of Greece have faced. Personalise your exploration with our included 'Your Choice' experiences. Option 1 – Morning experience:

Lemnos' Archaeological Wonders Prepare to be transported back in time as we explore the island's most captivating archaeological sites. Our first stop is the Ruins of Hephaisstia. Imagine bustling streets, grand buildings and the daily life of an ancient city, as you immerse yourself in its remnants. Next, we delve into the Sanctuary of the Cabeirians, shrouded in mystery and legend.

Dedicated to the Cabeiri, deities associated with rebirth, nature, and Hephaestus, this sanctuary offers a glimpse into ancient spiritual practices. Exploring the site, we feel the energy of the rituals that once took place here. Our final site holds a legendary Greek myth. A narrow opening leads into the Sea Cave of Philoctetes. According to legend, this cave was where the Greek hero Philoctetes was abandoned by his comrades when a snake bite refused to heal. He had with him the mythical bow and arrows of Heracles, thought to have special powers. Eventually, the Greeks realised that they needed Philoctetes' powerful weapon if they were to succeed in the Trojan War, leading them to return to Lemnos to save him.

Option 2 – Morning experience: Lemnos – a Wine in the Making Dive into the world of Lemnian wines with an engaging tour of a local winery. Experience the island's unique vineyard practices, where vines are grown low to the ground to protect them from strong winds and conserve water. This adaptation, influenced by Lemnos' volcanic soil, has shaped the distinct flavours of its wines for centuries. The island's winemaking tradition dates to ancient Greece when Lemnos was celebrated as a premier wine-producing region. During the Roman era, techniques were refined, and Byzantine monks further preserved this vinous heritage. Your tour features a presentation of signature Lemnian wines, including the sweet Muscat de Lemnos and the robust Limnio. Enjoy a tasting session paired with local cheeses and appetisers, all while soaking in the stunning views and exploring Lemnos' rich winemaking legacy.

Option 3 – Morning experience: Mythical Myrina

Embark on a fascinating exploration of Myrina, the historic heart of Lemnos, where the old port captures the essence of the past. Divided by the imposing castle, the town reveals two distinct faces. To the east, the Tourkikos Gialos (Turkish Port) retains Ottoman influences, evident in its name and architecture. To the west, the Romeikos Gialos (Greek Port) embodies the island's Greek heritage. As you stroll through Myrina with your local guide, the rich history of the town unfolds through its architecture. Admire the grand mansions built by affluent Lemnians from Egypt, each telling a story of prosperity and cultural exchange. The journey takes you to the Archaeological Museum, where a diverse collection of artefacts from sites like Poliochni, Kavirio and Hephaistia, provides a deeper understanding of Lemnos' ancient past. The visit also includes the Episcopal Church, the Metropolis of Lemnos, adding a spiritual dimension to your historical adventure.

Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, Turkey's founding president who fought for his homeland at this very spot, famously honoured the fallen with these words: "Those heroes that shed their blood and lost their lives. You are now lying in the soil of a friendly country.

Therefore, rest in peace. There is no difference between the Johnnies and the Mehments to us where they lie side by side here in this country of ours. After having lost their lives on this land, they have become our sons as well."

The masseuse works on your bones and muscles, imparting a feeling of relaxation and wellbeing. Modern bath houses may also include amenities such as saunas or splash pools as part of the experience.
