Day 2 Lisbon

Lisbon sits on the river Tagus, gifting it access to the coast that made Portugal one of world's most successful trading nations. Explorers including Vasco da Gama, Magellan and Bartholomeu Dias sailed on behalf of their monarch, discovering new lands and establishing new trade routes. The city prospered, with much of the proceeds from their colonies spent on opulent architecture. On the morning of All Saints Day 1755, Lisbon's faithful were huddled in church when a 7.7 magnitude earthquake struck, followed by a series of tsunamis that devastated the city. Candles lit for the religious ceremonies began a firestorm. By the end of the day, more than 75 per cent of the population had perished. Current day Lisbon reflects this tragedy, with few buildings pre-dating the 18th century, but money spent to rebuild the city was spent doggedly, creating a city of wide boulevards, sensible facades and parklands, all backed by opulent baroque interiors and paved by unique black and white-tiled pavements. With a relatively small population, Lisbon is an easy city to navigate. Its hillside suburbs are accessed by trams and funiculars while its waterfront remains a busy harbour, ready to continue the trading prowess that made the city famous. Today's experiences are tailored for both garden enthusiasts and newcomers to Lisbon. Garden lovers can explore the vibrant, narrative gardens of Sintra or the elegant, formal gardens of the Palace of Queluz. Meanwhile, first-time visitors can discover the city's top attractions. In the evening, we'll gather for a Welcome Event to celebrate the beginning of our springtime journey. Personalise your exploration with our included 'Your Choice' experiences.

Option 1 – Morning experience: Locally guided tour of Lisbon, with Mercado da Ribeira

Join our locally guided tour of Lisbon, with time to browse the spring produce at the city's Mercado da Ribeira. The city's story unfolds as we visit the suburb of Belém, with its Monastery of Jerónimos to hear more of Vasco de Gama's adventures; the waterfront memorial of Monumento das descobertas, honouring Prince Henri the Navigator and his fellow explorers; and the Torre de Belém – the 16th century fortification which acted as the gateway to Lisbon for all seafarers. This insightful tour tells tales of exploration, colonisation and devastation wrapped together by the history of a city whose influence has shaped much of our modern-day world. Near the famed Cais do Sodre train station, the beautiful building of the Mercado da Ribeira sits topped with a Moorish-style dome. To end our tour, we visit this famous market and its popular 'Time Out' food complex. Lisbon's populace has shopped for fresh fruit, vegetables, fish and meat here since 1882, with the market's latest offerings including 30 'pop-ups' offering petiscos (Portuguese tapas) and traditional products such as cheeses, cured hams, smoked sausages, fish conserves, wines and more. Our local guide introduces us to a variety of Portuguese specialties, such as Pastéis de Nata – the Portuguese custard tart that is a national specialty. Take time to explore and enjoy lunch (own expense), before transferring to our hotel. For those who prefer to explore the city further, there are plenty of transport options to explore the city further independently.

Option 2 – Morning experience: The Palace of Queluz and School of Equestrian

This morning, we experience Portuguese tradition at its finest with a visit to the Palace of Queluz and its exquisite formal gardens. The palace, a highlight on the "European Route of Historic Gardens," offers a glimpse into 18th-century royal life with its well-maintained lawns, elegant fountains, and vibrant flowerbeds, all meticulously designed by King Pedro III and Maria I. We then travel from the palace to the Henrique Calado Riding Arena to witness the Portuguese School of Equestrian Art in action. This institution, a cornerstone of Portugal's equestrian heritage, showcases the graceful "dance" of Pure-Blood Lusitano horses. At the arena, we'll see grooms attentively care for the horses and watch riders perform warm-up and ease exercises in period costume. This combination of historical grandeur and equestrian elegance promises a memorable immersion into Portuguese culture.

Option 3 – Full-day experience: Its Spring at Sintra Sintra, located 32 kilometres northwest of Lisbon, has long served as the summer playground for the Portuguese elite. The rich and famous built romantic palaces and castles with spectacular gardens atop the hills of the Serra de Sintra, seeking to escape the heat. Although there are several palaces to explore, we will visit Quinta da Regaleira, to view its spring gardens. Quinta da Regaleira feels as if it were designed by a child with a vivid imagination. Walking through its park is a delightful adventure, with secret paths leading to tiny staircases, a pond with stepping stones, and a network of mysterious caves and wells. Constructed between 1904 and 1910 during the twilight of the Portuguese monarchy, Quinta da Regaleira was originally owned by the Viscondessa da Regaleira. It was later expanded by the wealthy António Augusto Carvalho Monteiro, whose immense fortune earned him the nickname Monteiro dos Milhões, or 'Moneybags Monteiro'. The gardens of Quinta da Regaleira are a masterpiece of romantic landscaping, filled with symbolic elements that hint at Monteiro's possible connection to the Knights Templar. The estate is a maze of grottoes, towers and subterranean passages, each feature seemingly imbued with mysticism and hidden meanings. The gardens are best viewed in spring when the flowers are in bloom, adding vibrant colours and fragrances to the already magical atmosphere. Exploring the grounds, visitors are drawn into a world where every corner reveals a new secret, inviting them to uncover the layers of treats that make Quinta da Regaleira a legend.

Accommodation: Atlis Grand Hotel Lisbon (or similar) Meals: Breakfast, Welcome Event with Canapés.

Day 3 Embark Porto (Port: Leixões)

This morning, we drive north to Portugal's 'second city', arriving around midday. After an orientation tour, there is time to enjoy the Ribeira district on the Douro River, before we visit a traditional port cave. Porto, Portugal's second-largest city, entices visitors with its storied past, vibrant culture, and architectural splendour. It was in Porto that the Portuguese 'Age of Discovery' began when the indomitable Prince Henry the Navigator set sail to the western coast of Africa in the early 15th century. Porto has never looked back. The city lends its name to the fortified wine produced in nearby valleys, framing the Douro River with its picturesque streets, iconic iron bridges, and renowned wine cellars. In the UNESCO World Heritage 'old town' of Ribeira, a colourful blend of Romanesque, Gothic and baroque architecture adds to the lively atmosphere, while Porto's historical Rabelo boats, once vital for transporting port wine barrels, grace the riverbanks. This blend of tradition and modernity makes Porto an unforgettable destination, captivating visitors with its timeless charm and dynamic spirit. A visit to a port cellar is a quintessential experience in Porto. Here, the renowned port wine, crafted in the Douro Valley, is aged and stored in traditional 'caves'. As you meander through the narrow streets, you'll sense that you're truly in the heart of port wine country. Our guide will introduce you to various types of port wine and offer tastings, allowing you to appreciate the distinct characteristics of each. The cool, dimly lit cellars create an atmospheric setting as you delve into the history and craftsmanship behind this iconic Portuguese wine. Having sampled some of Portugal's 'favourite tippie', we take a short drive to the port of Leixões, to board the Douglas Mawson. This evening, we enjoy a 'Welcome aboard' dinner, where we meet our Aurora Expeditions team and crew.

Day 4 Vigo, Spain (Port: Vigo)

Entering Spain, our first port of call is Vigo. As one of its nation's leading fishing ports, Vigo's bustling harbour is a testament to centuries of seafaring tradition. The city's history is also intertwined with the Camino de Santiago, with pilgrims traditionally arriving by sea before embarking on their journey to Santiago de Compostela. Visitors can enjoy the scenic waterfront, savouring fresh seafood at local restaurants, or explore the historical shipyards, which echo with tales of old. With its lively festivals, lengthy beaches and welcoming atmosphere, Vigo provides a glimpse into Galicia's coastal heritage. Personalise your exploration with our included 'Your Choice' experiences. Option 1 – Morning experience: Santiago de Compostela. A scenic one-hour drive takes us to Santiago de Compostela, Europe's most significant pilgrimage city. Once a major site during the Spanish Reconquista, Santiago was heavily damaged in the 10th century by Moorish invaders, igniting the passion of Christian Iberia and spurring a resurgence based on the city's fervour for St James. Today, its Old Town, with its mix of Romanesque, Gothic, and baroque buildings, is renowned as the endpoint of the 790-kilometre Camino Francés pilgrimage route. The Camino de Santiago pilgrimage has been a spiritual journey for centuries, offering people a chance to seek personal transformation, fulfil a vow, or find a sense of purpose. Pilgrims walk the route for various reasons, including religious devotion, self-discovery or the pursuit of adventure. Upon arrival, embark on a guided walking tour, passing notable landmarks like the town hall, the Pazo de Raxoi (the 'Pazo'), and the Palace of Saint Jerome as you make your way to Praza do Obradoiro (Obradoiro Square). The highlight of your visit will be the Cathedral of Santiago de Compostela, dating back to 1122. Admire its stunning façade, showcasing a mix of architectural styles, and step through the Holy Door to delve into the fascinating history of St James and the city's belief that his bones lie within its walls

Option 2 – Morning experience: Soutomaior Castle and Winery Visit

Travelling inland, we arrive at Soutomaior, famed for its imposing fortress, extensively rebuilt in the 15th century by Pedro Madruga. Known for his brutal rule and involvement in local conflicts, Madruga's renovations reflect his formidable and controversial legacy. Enter through the operational drawbridge and explore this meticulously preserved castle, surrounded by award-winning gardens and ancient chestnut trees. Our visit brings us to the gardens in spring, with their flowers both in bud and bloom. Following our castle visit, we head to a local winery, where we tour the vineyards and delve into traditional winemaking methods. Guided by the vintner, we enjoy a tasting of wine produced from the regional Albariño grapes, distinguished by its citrus, floral and almond notes, before returning to Vigo

Option 3 – Morning experience: The Wines of the Rías Baixas

Visiting a winery in Rías Baixas offers a deep dive into Galicia's rich winemaking tradition, where the Albariño grape takes center stage. This lush coastal region, often called "Green Spain," is renowned for producing some of the world's finest white wines, thanks to its mineral-rich soils and cool Atlantic climate. The Albariño wines here are celebrated for their elegance, bright acidity, and vibrant flavours, perfectly complementing the region's seafood-rich cuisine. We tour the winery, where we learn about the unique role women vintners have played in shaping the region's wine culture. Historically, with men often away at sea, women took charge of the vineyards, a tradition that continues today. These women are at the forefront of cultivating new styles of Albariño and advancing winemaking techniques. Tasting the wines, we experience firsthand the bright, citrusy notes that define Albariño, making this visit to Rías Baixas an enriching morning excursion

Day 5 A Coruña (Port: A Coruña)

Spain's 'secret garden' is the verdant region of Galicia. This less-visited section of the country is a true gem, beloved by Spanish travellers. Locals still speak Galician, and the blonde, blue-eyed inhabitants proudly hold on to their Celtic heritage. Bring your umbrella, as it may rain, but it's well worth it. This region is a lush, green enclave amid Spain's typical dry and arid landscape

The coastal city of A Coruña is steeped in maritime heritage, celebrated through its iconic Tower of Hercules, the only working Roman lighthouse and a UNESCO World Heritage Site. As one of Spain's major port cities, A Coruña has been a hub of maritime trade and exploration since ancient times, with various naval battles played out off its shores. Its strategic location on the Atlantic coast has made it a pivotal point for voyages across the seas, including journeys to the Americas during the Age of Exploration, when A Coruña served as a departure point for explorers such as Pedro Menéndez de Avilés, who founded St Augustine, thought to be the oldest continuously inhabited European-established settlement in the continental United States. Today, A Coruña seamlessly blends its rich maritime heritage with its role as a dynamic modern city. The picturesque waterfront beckons both locals and visitors to stroll its streets, savour local wines at welcoming bars, indulge in fresh Atlantic seafood, and immerse themselves in the many cultural festivals on its annual calendar. Our visit coincides with the start of the pilgrimage season, as many pilgrims prefer the cooler spring weather to the summer heat. This timing provides us with a deeper insight into this captivating tradition.

Personalise your exploration with our included 'Your Choice' experiences.

Option 1 – Morning experience: A tour of Coruña, with a Beer Chaser

Experience the vibrant flavours and heritage of A Coruña on this engaging morning excursion. Begin with a drive along Europe's longest coastal promenade, soaking in the historical charm of the city, including the Castle of San Antón and the Tower of Hercules - an ancient UNESCO World Heritage Site that has served as a lighthouse and landmark at the entrance of La Coruña harbour since the late 1st century CE, when the Romans named it the Farum Brigantium. After immersing ourselves in the city's rich history, we shift focus to a local favourite: Estrella Galicia. For over a century, this iconic brew has been the beer of choice for Galicians. Our journey continues at the MEGA Museum and Estrella Galicia Beer Factory, a city landmark since 1906. Enjoy a guided tour of the brewery, where you'll learn about the brewing process and delve into the brewery's storied past. Then, indulge in a tasting session where you can sample a variety of Estrella Galicia beers, roll your own brew, and savour a selection of five different brews.

Option 2 – Morning experience: Ferrol – A Maritime Champion

Across the bay from A Coruña, we visit Ferrol, a town steeped in maritime history. A city hardened by a thousand battles, Ferrol is a wise mixture of culture, urban elegance, and military power, seeking a resurgence in popularity as the starting point of the 'English Way' portion of the pilgrimage to Santiago de Compostela. Stroll through the neighbourhood of Barrio da Magdalena, declared a Historic-Artistic Site, known for its rationalist layout from the Enlightenment era and the origins of the typical Galician houses with galleries. Visit the Mirador de los Jardines de Herrera to admire the Church of San Francisco, the Palace of the Navy Captaincy, and the Military Arsenal. Our morning includes a visit to the shipbuilding museum in Ferrol, offering a deep dive into the town's rich naval heritage. Housed in a historic building, you'll learn about the shipyards that have been central to Ferrol's economy and defence.

Interactive displays and multimedia presentations bring to life the stories of the ships built in Ferrol and the people who constructed them. This naval town offers us a chance to embrace its maritime past, which is such an integral part of the communities in this region

Option 3 – Morning experience: The Roman Enclave of Lugo
The unique city of Lugo offers a captivating glimpse into the past, with its perfectly intact UNESCO-listed Roman walls, heralded as the most complete and best-preserved example of Roman military architecture in the Western Roman Empire. Constructed in the late 3rd century to defend the Roman town of Lucus, these fortifications stretch over a kilometre and rise more than 7 metres high.

With 71 of the original 85 towers and 10 entrance gates still standing, Lugo's walls are a testament to the city's historical importance during the Roman Empire, when it was a key hub in the province of Gallaecia, known for its strategic and economic significance. As you step inside these ancient walls, you will discover St Mary's Cathedral, with its chapel dedicated to San Froilán, Lugo's patron saint. But Lugo is not just an old city; it also boasts impressive graffiti, murals and modern artworks. A must-see is the image of Julius Caesar by graffiti artist Diego As. This piece, a nod to the city's Roman history, is especially impressive when viewed from the city wall and even won an award for best mural in the world in 2022. Declared the oldest city in Galicia, Lugo offers travellers a city with a medieval heart, with a modern-day twist, making it an intriguing place to visit

Option 4 – Full-day experience: Santiago de Compostela – Walk a Section of the Pilgrimage Trail
Today we join the trail to Santiago de Compostela, Europe's most significant pilgrimage city. Once a major site during the Spanish Reconquista, Santiago was heavily damaged in the 10th century by Moorish invaders, igniting Christian Iberia's passion and spurring a resurgence centred on the city's fervour for St James. Today, its Old Town, with its blend of Romanesque, Gothic and baroque architecture, is renowned as the endpoint of the 790-kilometre Camino Francés pilgrimage route. The Camino de Santiago has long been a spiritual journey, offering pilgrims a chance to seek personal transformation, fulfil vows, or find purpose through devotion, self-discovery or adventure. Our scenic drive takes us to Calzada, where we become pilgrims ourselves for an hour, walking a few kilometres along the historic trail. Having stretched our legs and contemplated our path, we continue to Santiago de Compostela where we embark on a guided walking tour, passing landmarks like the town hall, the Pazo de Raxoi (the 'Pazo'), and the Palace of Saint Jerome as you make your way to Praza do Obradoiro (Obradoiro Square). The highlight of your visit will be the Cathedral of Santiago de Compostela, dating back to 1122. Admire its stunning façade, showcasing a mix of architectural styles, and step through the Holy Door to explore the captivating history of St James and the city's belief that his bones lie within its walls. (Note this tour involves walking on uneven surfaces and through forested areas, requiring a good level of fitness and balance.).

Day 6 Gijón (Port: Gijón)

Once a Roman port known as Gijia, Gijón's maritime legacy dates back centuries, with remnants of ancient docks and Roman baths still visible today. Its strategic coastal location has shaped its identity as a bustling port city, a heritage celebrated through its maritime museum, which houses artefacts and exhibits detailing the city's seafaring past. Gijón also served as a crucial point of departure for pilgrims on the Camino de Santiago, a medieval pilgrimage route to Santiago de Compostela in northwestern Spain, drawing travellers from across Europe. Local explorers and adventurers, inspired by Gijón's seafaring traditions, have embarked on voyages that shaped global exploration. Notably, the city was a significant hub for Asturian emigrants who left for the Americas in the 19th and early 20th centuries, contributing to its international ties. Gijón's waterfront promenades, bustling marina, and vibrant cider houses come alive in the spring, offering a true taste of local life. This historic city has been crucial in preserving Christianity in the Iberian Peninsula since the 9th century. During this time, Oviedo became a hub of pre-Romanesque architecture, showcasing a distinctive style that influenced religious buildings throughout Spain. But Oviedo's significance goes beyond its architecture; it was also the seat of the early Asturian Kingdom, and remained an important religious and cultural centre throughout the Middle Ages. Our local guide will lead a walking tour of Oviedo's downtown core, highlighting the stunning San Salvador Gothic Cathedral and the restored Old Town. After the tour, you will have time to explore this picturesque city on your own. With its rich historical heritage and modern charm, Oviedo is a favourite destination for visitors to the Asturian coast.

Option 2 – Morning experience: Apple Blossom Cider Farms The coastal towns of Asturias' 'cider region' are brimming with cider houses, beloved by locals and visitors alike. Gijón's cider houses, called sidrerías, are found all over the city, but the best ones are on the edge of Cimadevilla (the old town), where you can enjoy the show of the waiter pouring your drink while listening to the rumbling of the Atlantic Ocean crashing below. Naturally, a visit to a cider farm is a must. Just half an hour from Gijón, this experience is a true springtime delight. The orchards burst into a sea of white apple blossoms, creating a picturesque setting for a leisurely stroll. Here, cider is more than just a drink; it's a central part of the local culture. Festivals celebrate its significance, and there's a strong emphasis on sustainability in brewing practices. Steeped in Viking legend and maritime history, this village enchants visitors with its winding alleyways and blooming hydrangeas. A few steps away, Lluarca presents a contrasting yet equally captivating landscape where the sea meets the mountains. Lluarca boasts the often-photographed Ermita de La Regalina. This historic chapel, perched on a hilltop, overlooks the rugged coastline and is dedicated to the Virgin of La Regalina, a revered local patron saint. Together, Cudillero and Lluarca provide an enchanting exploration of Asturias' coast, making them ideal destinations to experience the authentic charm of coastal Spain.

Day 7 San Sebastián (Port: Pasajes)

Our time in port today is limited to a lunch stop, but what a special lunch it is. Welcome to the vibrant city of San Sebastián renowned for its delectable treats. That's right – it's tapas time! Tapas, or pintxos as they are known in San Sebastián, offer more than just a meal; they provide a culinary journey that captures the essence of Basque culture. The secret to eating pintxos like a local is to master the txikiteo, a Basque-style food crawl. We split into groups and join a local guide to embark on a txikiteo adventure through the city's colonnaded plaza and streets, where each bar offers its own specialties. Savour the rich flavour of jamón ibérico, the creamy delight of croquetas, and the tangy bite of boquerones. Pair these with a glass of local txakoli wine or a refreshing cider to enhance the experience. Enjoy every bite and make the most of this delightful lunch stop in one of Spain's most gastronomically celebrated cities. Although eating txakiteo style is a Basque tradition, we understand it may not be for everyone. Please feel free to stay on board for lunch or explore San Sebastián independently. (Note: The port of Pasajes is approximately 15 minutes' drive from San Sebastián.).

Day 8 Le Médoc and Bordeaux, France (Port: Le Verdon-sur-Mer)

Today, we dock at the port of Le Verdon, the northern gateway to the Médoc region. Due to tidal restrictions on the Gironde estuary, we moor near its mouth, ensuring dependable access for Bordeaux and the renowned vineyards of Le Médoc. For those joining our morning or half-day 'Your Choice' experiences, a shuttle service to the nearby seaside town of Le Verdon-sur-Mer will be provided, allowing you to enjoy some time along this picturesque coast. Loudenne’s port allowed for the maritime shipment of wines to London and the Gilbeys’ global distribution centres. They built an ultra-modern cellar for its time, and designed the parklands in the English style. Even today, you can feel transported to the château’s elegant past, when ladies carried parasols and men wore tailored suits and hats

Located on Charente River, this landmark, often dubbed the 'Versailles of the Sea', is longer than the Eiffel Tower is tall. Commissioned by none other than King Louis XIV, it provided the French Navy with essential ropes, marking Rochefort as a critical hub in naval history. The Corderie Royale ceased rope production in 1862 and closed its doors with the Naval Dockyard of Rochefort in 1927, but the structure survived. Today, it looks more like a palace than a ropemaking factory and houses the International Centre of the Sea, where visitors can immerse themselves in its 350-year history. Concarneau's prime coastal location made it a frequent target for English, Dutch and Spanish pirates throughout the 17th century. During these turbulent times, the town's residents faced constant threats to their crucial trade routes. The 14th-century ramparts and towers were not only architectural feats, but also vital defences against these seafaring raiders. Day 12 Saint-Malo (Port: Saint-Malo)

As we head towards Normandy, our small size allows us to dock at the charming city of Saint-Malo. Though this tidal port can be challenging to access, it's well worth the effort. Saint-Malo offers a range of captivating experiences for us to enjoy. Perched on the border of the former kingdoms of Normandy and Brittany, the walled city of St Malo, with its medieval architecture, cobblestoned streets, and shops stacked with delicious Bretonnque treats, is a true 'pirate town'. This era of privateering earned St Malo the nickname 'City of Corsairs' and contributed significantly to its prosperity and dubious reputation. Today, St Malo celebrates this heritage through its museums, festivals, and preserved historic sites, offering visitors a glimpse into its adventurous past as a renowned 'pirate city'. Personalise your exploration with our included 'Your Choice' experiences

Option 1 – Morning experience: The Pirate Town of Saint-Malo Join our local guide this morning for a walking tour of Saint-Malo's historic walled town. Standing proudly behind its stone ramparts, Saint-Malo boasts a captivating history more closely tied to privateering than outright piracy. From the 16th to the 19th centuries, Saint-Malo was renowned as a bastion for the wealthy privateers known as corsairs. These state-sanctioned sailors, authorised by the French crown, were tasked with attacking and capturing enemy ships during times of war. Unlike pirates, who operated independently and unlawfully, privateers acted under official letters of marque and reprisal, sharing their spoils with the French kings. The corsairs of Saint-Malo were highly skilled and daring seafarers who played a crucial role in French naval warfare and overseas trade. They conducted raids on English and other enemy ships, bringing back wealth and prestige to Saint-Malo. This era of privateering earned Saint-Malo a notorious reputation, brought to life through captivating tales of its most famous, or infamous, pirates and their treacherous lifestyles. Our guide shares stories of notable figures like Jacques Cartier, Duguay-Trouin, Surcouf, and the romance author Chateaubriand, as we walk the narrow streets leading to the castle and St Malo Cathedral, before we visit Asfeld Hotel, a grand manor once owned by privateer François-Auguste Magon de la Lande

Option 2 – Morning experience: Château de la Bourbansais Visiting Château de la Bourbansais feels like stepping back in time. Built on Gallo-Roman ruins in the late 16th century, this stunning château and its French-style gardens have been a heritage site since 1959. Designed by André Le Nôtre, who also created the gardens at Versailles, the grounds feature 18th-century statues and a 17th-century vegetable garden inspired by the 'Potager du Roi'. Inside, you can explore rooms furnished to reflect 15th- to 18th-century life, offering a glimpse into the past. Owned by the 19th-generation Lorgeril family, the château has historical ties to the French East India Company, adding to its rich legacy. Château de la Bourbansais is a captivating blend of history, horticulture, and heritage

Option 3 – Morning experience: Mont Saint-Michel Normandy's most recognisable silhouette, UNESCO World Heritage-listed Le Mont-Saint-Michel has captured the imaginations of pilgrims, artists and travellers for centuries. Founded as a monastery in the 8th century, Le Mont Saint-Michel became a significant pilgrimage destination during the Middle Ages. Its abbey, perched atop the island's rocky peak, is a masterpiece of medieval architecture, blending Romanesque and Gothic styles. The narrow, winding streets of the village below the abbey are lined with shops, restaurants, and houses dating back centuries. Visitors can explore the abbey's intricate chapels, cloisters and panoramic viewpoints, which offer sweeping vistas of the bay. According to Christian tradition, Saint Michael is known for his role in the final judgment, where he is often portrayed as weighing souls and leading the righteous to heaven, while casting out evil. Statues of Saint Michael are often placed in elevated positions, such as atop spires or high points in churches and cathedrals, symbolising his role as a heavenly figure overseeing and protecting the faithful below. Le Mont-Saint-Michel itself embodies this symbolism, rising dramatically from the flats as a single standout site. Its unique blend of natural beauty and architectural marvels continues to captivate travellers, making it one of France's most iconic and enthralling destinations. (Note: Mont Saint-Michel is surrounded by one of Europe's highest tidal ranges, with waters rising and falling up to 14 metres (46 feet) daily. This creates a mystical atmosphere, as the island alternately appears to float on water or be connected to the mainland by a causeway. Because our visit is subject to tidal fluctuations, access to the site, and applicable timings, can only be confirmed closer to our date of travel.)

Day 13 Honfleur (Port: Honfleur)

We arrive at the mouth of the River Seine with tidal restrictions permitting us access to Honfleur mid-morning. Originally a bustling trade port Honfleur boasts charming streets and an iconic harbour. During the Hundred Years' War, it briefly fell under English occupation and thrived as a crucial trade hub, particularly with North America and later French Canada, when local explorer Samuel de Champlain founded Quebec. Honfleur's ship owners amassed fortunes, which remain evident today in the multi-storeyed terraced homes tightly packed around the harbour, as symbols of status and wealth. In the 19th century, Honfleur's appeal transcended commerce, when artist Claude Monet followed his mentor, Eugène Boudin, to his hometown. He and his fellow Impressionists were captivated by the town's ethereal light immortalising it on canvas. Today, the Vieux Bassin hosts yachts against a backdrop of centuries-old buildings, where quaint shops, vibrant galleries, and seafood restaurants beckon visitors to savour regional flavours in this picturesque coastal setting. Option 2 – Half day experience: St Joan of Arc's Rouen Join a locally guided tour to Rouen, the historic capital of Normandy. Renowned for its stunning medieval architecture, the city's crown jewel is the Rouen Cathedral, an awe-inspiring Gothic masterpiece that inspired many of Claude Monet's paintings. As you wander through the charming old town, you will encounter half-timbered houses, cobblestone streets, and the impressive Gros-Horloge, an astronomical clock dating back to the 14th century, while a stroll along the River Seine reveals bustling markets and quaint cafes that offer a taste of local life. The city is famously tied to Joan of Arc, the national heroine of France who led French troops to several important victories during the Hundred Years' War. Captured by the English, she was tried for heresy and burned at the stake in Rouen in 1431. Her legacy endures throughout the city. With its blend of historical significance and 21st-century culture, Rouen provides a fascinating glimpse into the past while remaining a lively, modern destination. (Note: Rouen is approximately a 1.15-hour drive from Honfleur. This excursion will depart from Honfleur upon our arrival and return in time for you to board the ship for departure. willows, bamboo and exotic flowers. The tranquil lily pond, with its floating water lilies, served as the inspiration for many of Monet's masterpieces, including his renowned Water Lilies series. As you explore, you can almost feel Monet's presence, observing the play of light and shadow, the changing colours, and the reflections on the water. This living masterpiece offers a glimpse into the artist's world, where nature and art merge in perfect harmony, bringing his celebrated paintings to life (Note: Giverny is approximately a 1.5-hour drive from Honfleur. Once a thriving trading hub alongside Bruges and Ghent, Ypres is now deeply associated with its crucial role in World War I. Nearly obliterated during the conflict, the town was meticulously rebuilt to honour those who perished. This monumental reconstruction serves as a living memorial to the countless soldiers and civilians who lost their lives in the region. Visiting Ypres offers a profound glimpse into its wartime history, with landmarks such as the Menin Gate and the In Flanders Fields Museum standing as solemn tributes.
